Key features

Choose from three different types of mobile internet: start - the attractive rate for occasional use with applications not requiring much bandwidth (such as e-mail); or comfort and unlimited - the monthly flat rates for frequent users in Switzerland (comfort) or even across Europe (unlimited). International roaming is generally available up to a defined cost limit (standard: 300.-). If you would like to change the cost limit or even block roaming data at standard rates, you can easily set this up yourself for your individual subscriptions via the Sunrise Cockpit (cockpit.sunrise.ch). If you prefer, however, we would be happy to configure these options for you at our end.

For international business trips, you can supplement your mobile internet subscriptions with Business travel data roaming options. Write e-mails, use apps, and surf the Internet while benefiting from attractive terms anywhere in the world.
