Notes on Sunrise inclusive

All calls that you place from Switzerland will be charged per second (from ten seconds per call).

The calling time included in the base rate apply for all calls to the national fixed network and to all national mobile networks. This also applies for call redirection.

The included SMS allowance applies for messages which were sent within Switzerland to Swiss numbers. SMS value-added services are excluded.

If the inclusive calling time or SMS messages are not used up, they expire. Carrying over to the following month is not possible.

The following are billed separately: calls abroad, connections established abroad, calls to special numbers (e.g. 090x, 1818) and mobile Internet connections (WAP, GPRS, EDGE, UMTS).

For you, the pre-installed automatic forwarding of a call to your Sunrise mailbox in Switzerland is free of charge. Redirecting to an external voice mail or to another number will be charged according to the usual rates.

All connections to your own mailbox in Switzerland (e.g. for checking your messages and recording your greeting message) are free of charge. Return calls from the Sunrise mailbox will be charged according to the usual rates.

Any calls that you place abroad are subject to the roaming rates. Information at: www.sunrise.ch/roaming
